The Lawrence Livermore Laboratory Armed Forces Veterans Association (LLAFVA) hosted its annual Veterans Day breakfast on Monday at the Livermore VA Medical Center.

The LLLAFVA Veteran's Day breakfast has become a memorable tradition that is very much appreciated by the veterans who live at the facility. Several LLNL retirees and 26 Lab employees volunteered making the event an overwhelming success.

"Lab volunteers provided an uplifting experience for the 88 disabled veterans in the assisted care facility," said LLLAFVA board member Roy Warner. "It was a very rewarding experience feeding and visiting with these veterans spanning WWII through Vietnam."

The event was sponsored by the
