GILLIAN MILLETT

Gillian studied anthropology, religion and science/technology at McMaster University. After graduating she began travelling and hasn't stopped since. Her adventures have taken her to over 50 countries and every continent. Along the way, she has worked as a cycling instructor in Australia, cruise director and hostel manager in Europe, event director in Canada and race director/assistant tour director for a cycling expedition across Africa. Her seasons in the Antarctic region have shown her the joy of the wild and remote areas we are privileged to visit.

Although she spends majority of her year on a Quark ship, when back home in Canada, Gillian lives on Lake Simcoe. Life on water has its advantages - She can take her kayak out as soon as the ice breaks up, and enjoys riding her bikes in the forests nearby. She has a soft spot in her heart for animals – the stranger the better. In her spare time, Gillian has a variety of hobbies and is a bit of a jack-of-all-trades. Of most interest are handicrafts and she can often be found trying to learn local methods on her travels.
