ZHONGYUAN CHEN

After seven years working as a quality engineer, translator and interpreter in the aviation industry, where he also acted as a representative from China to the International Aerospace Quality Group, Zhongyuan decided to become a professional interpreter. To pursue this goal more effectively, he chose to obtain further advanced qualifications in the UK.

Zhongyuan finished the Master's course in Interpreting and Translating at Bath in 2017. His passion for language and nature led him to join the Quark Team immediately after graduation.

Born and raised in Jiangsu, China, Zhongyuan has lived in Beijing since 2000. Outside work he enjoys badminton and Chinese calligraphy and also has an interest in tropical fish.
